To whom it may concern:

Plains Builders Inc. has recently completed the construction of three buildings located in the newly renovated Juniper Camp Loop located in Palo Duro Canyon State Park. Plains worked effectively to bring the project to completion and was a proactive partner throughout the construction process. For example, at the initiation of construction, two issues related to site constraints were discovered. Plains quickly devised workable solutions to both issues. Their solutions were ultimately approved by the design consultant and implemented into the project. Their pro-active approach to these, and other, challenges during the construction phase kept the project on schedule and minimized the cost impact to the project budget. I would gladly work with Plains Builders again, should the opportunity arise.
